

Meet Render: Your Career Launchpad

AVC 248 • Design Self-Promotion • Week 3

“Always know where you are, and where you’re going.”

THE TOOL

What Render is

Render is a tool Michelle built for this class. It is one calm home for your whole job or freelance search, so the process stops feeling scattered and stressful.

One place

Everything about your search lives together, not across ten tabs and notebooks.

Less stress

A hard process gets lighter when it is organized and visible.

Clear direction

You always know where you stand and what the next move is.

A launchpad: built to get you off the ground and pointed somewhere.

The modules, at a glance

Render is built in modules. Each one handles a piece of the search, and they all feed each other.

Profile + Goals

Who you are and the one role you're aiming at.

Job Log

Every posting you're tracking, with status.

Resume Vault

Tailored resume versions, organized and ready.

Skills Tracker

What you have, what to build, and your progress.

Networking

Contacts, outreach, and follow-ups in one view.

Interview Prep

Practice questions and notes for each role.

Plus the capstone career agent: the final layer, on the next slide.

Your capstone career agent

On top of every module sits the agent you build at the end. It reads your Render data and runs your search for you.

The agent

Sits on top of everything you built all semester and puts it to work.

Runs your job search on a schedule.

Uses your goals to filter what matters.

Surfaces fresh postings and next steps.

Every module you fill in makes the agent smarter.

HOW YOU'LL USE IT

Render runs all semester

This is not a one-week tool. You live in Render from week one to the capstone, building it up a little at a time.

Set up

Build your profile and lock in the one reach job you're chasing.

Build up

Log jobs, tailor resumes, track skills, and prep interviews week by week.

Launch

Stand up your career agent and let it run your search for you.

Slow and steady. By the capstone, it's fully yours.

Everything points at one job

You pick a single reach job early. From then on, every module in Render is aimed at that one target.

reach job anchors your whole semester.

Your resume is tailored to it.

Your interview prep is built around it.

Your skill-building is aimed at it.

One target keeps every decision focused.

BUILT TO TRUST

Private and portable

Two promises that make Render safe to rely on now and useful long after this class ends.

Anonymous by design

No personal or sensitive data ever goes into the AI. Your private details stay private.

Yours after college

You take Render with you, including a portable agent that runs in any AI tool you choose.

Safe now, useful later. Private while you learn, portable when you leave.

THE BIG PICTURE

A personal learning environment

Think of Render as the place you learn the whole craft of a job search by doing it for real, with the agent as the final layer on top.

Foundation

Your profile, goals, and the reach job underneath it all.

The modules

Job log, resume vault, skills, networking, and interview prep.

The agent

The capstone layer that puts everything you built to work.

Learn the craft first. The agent is the reward at the top.

Render is your home base all semester.

“Open it first. Let’s set up your profile.”
